The World is Ready And So Are We

In Memoriam

Mr. Pharon Heckler

Everyone who knew him admired and respected his untiring efforts and contributions as a leader, teacher and friend.

In fond memory and appreciation of our beloved leader, teacher, and cherished friend, Pharon K. Heckler.

Mr. Heckler served his church, school, and community beyond measure for the past 25 years. His unfailing loyalty, ambition, and jovial disposition have carved their impression in the hearts of students and fellow citizens. Organizations and service groups, such as the Heart Society, Masonic Lodge, Elks Lodge, and Presbyterian Church have all benefited from his unselfish efforts. In our school the Hi-Y Club flourished for many years under his paternal guidance and counseling; also, the projectionists functioned promptly and efficiently under his competent instruction.

Although he was recognized as the learned head of our biology department, Mr. Heckler was more than a teacher—he was a friend. No matter how busy he was, he always had time to listen to the seemingly petty problems of adolescence or to laugh with you about what happened yesterday in school. Mere words cannot express the feelings in the minds of his many friends, nor the lasting impression in their hearts. Maybe that is why we will never forget our Mr. Heckler.

The History of the Class of '63

In September, 1959, we, the class of '63, took our first walk through the hallowed halls of N.H.S., trembling all the way and getting pushed aside by upperclassmen. During the year, the class was directed by Tom Cuff, president; Dave Dietrich, vice president; Ralph Nutter, secretary; and Pam Conrad, treasurer. Our main effort was a "Bottle of Lestoil," the Homecoming float. Carolyn Prior was the freshman attendant at the Homecoming events.

With one year's experience, the class assuredly proceeded. Our elected sophomore class officers were Tom Swearingen, president; Dave Dietrich, vice president; Judy Winzeler, secretary; Tom Cuff, treasurer. Again the main project was the Homecoming float, a balloon representing the world and the saying "Let's Send B. G. Around the World." This float was an improvement over the freshman float; however, the balloon fell over before reaching the judges' stand. Carol Wilson was our sophomore attendant.

The school session of 1961-1962 proved a big success for the junior class. Under the leadership of President Tom Cuff, Vice President Rux Cannady, Secretary Barbara Miller, and Treasurer Judy Winzeler, we saw great heights. The class play, "Meet Me in St. Louis," was a smash hit; and the Prom, "Carousel," was praised as one of the best proms in the school's history. Although our Homecoming float only placed third, it was one of the most clever floats in the parade. It consisted of a slot machine, playing cards, dice, and poker chips; and the theme was "Napoleon Is A Sure Bet." The junior class attendant was Darla Weasel. Scholastically, nine juniors were inducted into the National Honor Society.

As seniors, we have made many academic, athletic and extracurricular accomplishments. Julia Mitchell received an acclaimed honor by winning a National Merit Scholarship. Eight additional seniors were inducted into the National Honor Society this year. More hard-working seniors have also made other laudable, academic achievements. Besides the past athletic records in which our boys played an important part, several league championships show the fine athletic record the boys have made this year. During March much worthwhile, hard work was put on the class play, "Pride and Prejudice." Although the Homecoming float only placed third again, a clever theme, "B.G. Will Smell Defeet," accompanied a well-made float, consisting of big football shoes being smelled by a dummy representing a B.G. football player. Darla Weasel was our senior attendant, and Mary Ann Schueler reigned as Homecoming queen. The elected senior class officers were Jim Meyer, president; Tom Cuff, vice president; Jan Heckler, secretary; and Dave Dietrich, treasurer. Rux Cannady was our student council president and editor of the annual. Brenda Allen, presiding as queen, had a busy evening handing out gold medals and trophies at the first annual Gold Medal Track Meet; and Jane Pilliod represented Napoleon at the League Track Meet as the school's queen. Everyone enjoyed the senior graduation activities, and May 31, Commencement Day, was an unforgettable occasion, which brought to a close our class history.

"Hitch your wagon to a star." Ralph Waldo Emerson's advice was never more true than today. Your opportunities are limited only by your imagination and your ambition. So aim high! Do not stop learning. You have probably discovered by now that learning is a life-time activity. The more you know, the more you want or need to know. In high school you have merely scratched the surface. In later years, you must plunge beneath this surface to discover for yourself the delights and rewards of being an educated person.

I wish for you success in this great adventure.

Principal

A high school education should contribute to your future success and happiness. It has been the purpose of the Napoleon High School Faculty during your four years of high school to present opportunities for you to accumulate knowledge, to improve your ability to analyze, to develop a sense of values free from moral defects or weaknesses, to create a sensitivity to the rights of others, to promote good work habits and an appreciation for work well done, and to recognize yourself as an individual endowed with human dignity.

I trust that your high school training has provided the experiences that will assure you a future marked by personal growth and service to your fellow man.
